Big numbers for small business in Adelaide City and Onkaparinga

For South Australia, the largest number of small businesses with one to four employees were in Adelaide and Onkaparinga, according to the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS).

Lisa Conolly, Director of Rural and Regional Statistics National Centre said the ABS's National Regional Profile makes it easy for local communities to view a wide range of different data for their region.

"With over 3,000 regions available, people will be able to easily locate data and build their own stories," Ms Conolly said.

Data is available on hundreds of items including, population, births, average income levels, number of aged pensioners, number of motor vehicles, land use, and much more.

For example, did you know that compared to the rest of South Australia:

- More small businesses with 1 to 4 employees were in Adelaide (2,376) and Onkaparinga (1,906).
- Households in Adelaide's centre pay the most rent ($1,448 a month).
- Households in Walkerville and Burnside have the highest mortgages (Walkerville - $2,377 a month; Burnside - $2,349 a month).
- Onkaparinga had the most births (2,071).

Regional information is available over a five year period up to 2011, so local communities can track changes over time in the characteristics of their areas.

A map interface makes finding regions very easy. To get started, just click on the ‘National Regional Profile’ link on the ABS website, www.abs.gov.au.
